The screenshot shows the EventBrite interface for the workshop. On the left is a navigation menu with options: Event Home, People, Schedule (highlighted), Stream, Breakout Rooms, Speakers, and Exhibitors. The main content area includes the event title, a 'Back to schedule' button, the time '04:00 PM - 04:55 PM • 55min • Wed', and a description under the heading 'DESCRIPTION'. The description states: 'This workshop aims at building an innovative and high-level learning environment in which professors in social sciences and humanities (SSH) and their students will critically discuss and compare tools, strategies and experiences with experts and stakeholders on the different ways of transferring knowledge among generations. This will contribute to a better understanding of both young and elderly people's role in fostering intergenerational solidarity and in increasing public awareness of what active and healthy ageing means. Art, Literature and Sociology experts will explore the multi-faceted aspect of "ageing", taking into account changes and challenges both at the physical level and at the bio-psycho-socio-cultural level.'

Abstract

This workshop aims at building an innovative and high-level learning environment in which professors in social sciences and humanities (SSH) and their students will critically discuss and compare tools, strategies and experiences with experts and stakeholders on the different ways of transferring knowledge among generations. This will contribute to a better understanding of young and elderly people's role in fostering intergenerational solidarity and in increasing public awareness of what active and healthy ageing means. Art, Literature and Sociology experts will explore the multi-faceted aspect of "ageing", taking into account changes and challenges both at the physical level and at the bio-psycho-socio-cultural level.
